✦ Lady Joanna Creative Writing Competition ✦

Half Term Challenge – Your Words in Print!

- Do you have a story waiting to be told?
- Over half term, we are launching a whole-school Creative Writing Competition — and this isn't just any competition...
- Winning entries will be published in a real book.
- Yes - a printed book with your name inside it, available for others to read for years to come.

What Can You Write?

Anything your imagination dreams up!

You might choose to write:

- A suspenseful mystery
- A fantasy adventure
- A historical tale
- A heart-warming story about friendship
- A sci-fi mission to another planet
- A powerful poem
- A twisted fairy tale
- Or something completely original

The only rule?

It must be your own work.

How Will Winners Be Chosen?

Entries will be judged on:

- Creativity and originality
- Use of language
- Structure and organisation
- Impact on the reader
- Technical accuracy

There will be winners from different year groups to ensure fairness — and every winning piece will be published in our very own Lady Joanna Anthology of Young Writers.

Just imagine holding a book in your hands and seeing your name printed inside it.

Why Enter?

Because writing matters.

- Stories change how we see the world.
Stories connect us.
Stories outlive us.

This is your opportunity to:

- Be brave
- Take creative risks
- Share your voice
- Leave your mark

Some of the world's most famous authors began by writing stories at school, unsure whether anyone would read them.

What if this is where your story begins?

A Final Thought...

Over half term, while others may scroll or switch on, you could create something that lasts forever.

Up to 1500 words.
One idea.
Endless possibilities.

We cannot wait to read what you create.
Let the writing begin.

Submission deadline: Monday, 2nd March

- Entries can be emailed to: writingcomp@ladyj.kent.sch.uk or brought into the school office if handwritten.
